Hi Tony-

I received your email and have a question or two. What are the odds that I am actually going to be needed tomorrow since the case is only getting off the ground on Thursday and your don't have a jury yet? I'm curious as I am suppose to be in Quincy at 11:00 for District Court (it is the first case scheduled to go to trial and the ADA is positive that it will not be a plea). I doubt that you'll need me before the afternoon at the earliest, so I could inform the ADA there that I need to get on the stand before the lunch break and then rush back to Springfield for you. In general, though, we have noticed that the chemist is rarely needed on the same day that the trial begins, so would it be possible to have me there first thing Friday morning? I'm not sure how many witnesses you may have before me or how long they will take, but if needed I will tell the Quincy ADA that your case came up and that I will not be able to make it. Thanks for your help.

Sonja,

Writing to let you know that we've been called in for trial in Hampden Superior Court for the Cusson case. We're due to begin on Thursday morning, January 19, 2012. Please let me know that you've received this message and you'll be here. Thanks!

Sorry it has taken me so long to get back to you, but I didn't here from the ADA until late Friday afternoon. The ADA told me that I will not be needed today (Monday), and that he will call me today to let me know about tomorrow. He also mentioned that there is a chance that his case could still plea, so I'll let you know if that happens.

Hi Tony-

I wanted to let you know that I received a summons late yesterday afternoon for Fall River Superior Court starting on Monday, 1/09/12. I will be speaking with the ADA sometime today, and hopefully I will be able to find out what day he thinks he will actually need me. I hope this does not interfere with your Superior Court case that is entering the pool on 1/10/12 (I realize that it is highly unlikely that the Cusson case will actually go on the 10th). Once I know anything more concrete I will let you know.
